Valuation and Recommendation:-

Yatharth is one of the largest hospitals in Noida region. No. of occupied beds and ARPOB grew by 13% and 12% CAGR respectively over FY21-23; which led to a 51% CAGR growth in company's revenue. EBITDA grew at a CAGR of 41% over the aforementioned period. India's current healthcare expenditure is largely dominated by private expenditure. North India regions including Haryana and Uttar Pradesh have lower than average doctor and nurse density per 10,000 population. This is expected to improve going ahead, favouring company's expansion plans. Yatharth's recent acquisition of Jhansi-Orchha is aimed at further expanding into new geographies and to grow their presence into regional healthcare market. Company intends to focus on more advanced specialties; having high demand in respective markets and deliver a higher ARPOB. With high ROE and ROCE of 36% and 24.4% respectively, we believe Yatharth is being offered at a reasonable valuation of 20.9x FY23 EV/EBITDA as compared to its peers. With healthy financials along with growth potentials in Northern India, we recommend 'SUBSCRIBE' to the issue.

Investment Rationale

One of the leading super-specialty hospital in Delhi NCR with diverse specialty and payer mix

Yatharth engaged 609 doctors led by experienced clinical department directors and offer a range of healthcare services across their specialties and super specialties including Cardiology, Neuroscience, Orthopaedics, Oncology, Urology, etc. Company's operations encompass all levels of healthcare services from primary to tertiary. Diversification of revenue in terms of specialties, hospital and customer mix allows them to grow their business whilst maintaining a relatively de-risked business proportions and allows them to impose differential pricing and marketing strategies more effectively to attract the customers and the patients.

Introducing new specialties at existing hospitals leading to higher ARPOB

Yatharth is intending to introduce new specialties at their existing hospitals such as radiation therapy to their oncology department at their hospitals located in Noida Extension and Jhansi-Orchha. Company's existing oncology treatment includes medical and surgical oncology and by introducing radiation therapy, they aspire to make Noida Extension hospital as their centre of excellence for complete oncology treatment.

Company has also started bone marrow and kidney transplant operations at their Noida Extension and Greater Noida hospitals. Further, they have also received requisite approvals to start liver transplant at their Noida Extension hospital. They also plan to introduce an additional specialty of human organ transplant and intend to develop their Greater Noida hospital as their Organ Transplant centre. Both oncology treatment and human organ transplant are expensive treatments; thereby increasing company's ARPOB substantially.

Scaling through organic and inorganic manner in current markets

Company has its hospitals in Delhi NCR region which has witnessed strong economic growth in the last few years. With more population moving from rural region to urban region, Yatharth is looking to capitalise this growth by expanding the network of hospitals through brownfield and greenfield projects, strategic acquisitions and arrangements with third party service providers.

After acquiring a 305-bedded multi-speciality hospital in Jhansi-Orchha, company has now been allotted 1,885.15 sq.mtr of land adjacent to its Greater Noida hospital with intention to expand the bed capacity by 200 beds. Further, they have emerged as the highest bidder to lease 3,660.00 sq. mtr of land adjacent to their Noida Extension hospital with the intention to expand the bed capacity. However, the process to enter into definite agreements with the authorities is currently in process and no such agreements have been entered. They also intend to explore opportunities for expansion via asset-light models or models involving no ownership of assets.

Healthy Financials

Company has reported strong growth in revenue and profitability over the past few years on account of bed addition and increase in occupancy rate. Revenue grew at a CAGR of 51% over FY21-FY23; whereas EBITDA grew at a CAGR of 41% over the same period with margins of 26% in FY23. Number of operational beds increased from 864 in FY21 to 1405 in FY23. Occupancy rate in FY23 was lower at 49% as the company acquired Jhansi-Orchha hospital operating at 8%. Occupancy level ex Jhansi-Orchha stood at around 50%. Ramp up in Jhansi-Orchha hospital will increase its occupancy rate; thereby improving profitability.

Key Risks & Concerns

Unfavorable government policies & regulations

Healthcare industry is a highly regulated industry which requires compliance with applicable safety, health, environmental and other governmental regulations. The company may incur substantial costs in order to comply with current or future laws, rules and regulations.

Retention of healthcare professionals

Yatharth's performance and growth strategies depends substantially on its ability to attract and retain experienced doctors, nurses and other healthcare professionals in a highly competitive industry. The demand for doctors is highly competitive. The availability of specialist doctors is limited by the training period, which can be up to 15 years and even longer for certain medical specialties. If the company is unable to attract or retain medical personnel as required, it may not be able to maintain the quality of its services and could be forced to admit fewer patients, which may adversely impact its revenue.

Competition from other Hospitals

Competition in the healthcare industry has increased with new hospitals coming up in the geographies Yatharth operates in. A highly competitive industry, coupled with tightening of healthcare regulations, has made it difficult for smaller players in the industry to stay profitable. Larger hospital brands like Apollo, Max and Medanta, typically have stronger financial discipline and negotiating power with suppliers, better ability to attract medical talent, and greater capital and administrative resources to meet these needs over standalone hospitals. If the company is not able to attract or retain such professionals then the competitive pressure can have an adverse impact on the company's business and financial condition. In addition, any consolidation in the healthcare industry may lead to concentration of market share which may exert pricing and recruiting pressure.

Delay in receiving payments from government bodies

Revenue from government bodies contribute more than 37%. Receiving payments from government usually takes time which increases company's receivable days. Any delays in receiving payment of significant outstanding dues from government bodies may have a material adverse impact on its business, financial condition, cash flows, results of operations and prospects.
